Among the names involved in the project is Bertone, which will contribute with its expertise as well as its immense heritage design value.

In particular the design firm's licensed trademark will be used for the new automobiles developed under the name "Dianchè by Bertone".

The project includes the development of a full line-up of electric vehicles within the Smart Mobility Platform (SMP): among these are not only limited edition supercars and city cars, but also VTOL vehicles.

These electric vehicles will feature an easy-battery replacement system (less than 3 minutes).

During the launch event held in Milan, the company unveiled the Dianchè BBS GT One, the Dianchè BBS GT Cube and the Dianchè BSS City Car Cube, a 3-seater that is planned to be launched in 2022 with a projected price of 18K Euros.

Both the GT One and GT Cube will be available for pre-order from January 15, 2019. They will be produced in Italy in a very limited series of 9 units for each model.
